FOREWORD

As the school year draws to a close, we the staff of the 1959 "Shield" present you with a book of memories to serve as warm recollections in the future. The multitude of events which have taken place in the relatively short space of nine months doubtless contain a few which are special to each of you. The pictures and stories of many of these events will be numbered among your most cherished memories.

This book is the result of untold hours of thought, work, and determined effort on the part of the Yearbook Staff, faculty sponsor, photographer and publisher. To them goes the credit of a job well done.

In presenting this book to you, with our best wishes, we hope that your memories will remain more vivid. Raise your shield and let these memories shine before you.

OUR SCHOOL

Our school year got underway with the pre-school meetings, of all our faculty, at Annandale High School. It was not until the Friday before Labor Day that we knew we would be in our own building. Many of the staff members, including our principal, assistant principals, director of guidance and several students worked on Labor Day to enable us to start the year at Lee.

The Shield staff, student body, and faculty appreciate the long hours and effort that the contractor and his employees worked to get our school ready for the opening of the school year.

DEDICATION

The yearbook staff takes great pleasure in dedicating the first edition of THE SHIELD to one who has served as an inspiration to both students and faculty. He has exemplified consideration for others, love for young people, untiring devotion to duty, and strong feelings for his profession.

It is with heartfelt sincerity that we dedicate THE SHIELD to our principal, Mr. Robert E. Phipps.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Lee High School and its facilities are an investment in your future.

There is no more significant period in the life of any young man or woman than the four years spent in high school. It is a period when ideas, ideals and points of view will be fashioned for the future. You must not only secure a thorough understanding of the subjects you study, but also develop a worthwhile philosophy of life.

No era in the history of the modern world has presented as many and as complex problems as does the present. Never in modern history has character, scholarship and intelligent leadership been more desperately needed. These are the problems you face in the future. The entire staff and facilities of Lee High School are dedicated to the purpose of assisting you to gain an understanding of these problems and to do your part in finding solutions for them.

MR. WILLIAM PARRISH

Mr. Parrish, Assistant Principal for Instruction, has been both friend and counselor to the students and faculty. He started his job during the summer months and has been working ever since. Without him our textbooks and other supplies wouldn't have been ready when school opened in the fall. The staff compliments him on a job well done and hopes that in the following years his experience in the field of education will be beneficial to the growing success of our school.

MR. WILLIAM JORDAN

Mr. Jordan, the Assistant Principal for Administration, has put forth much of his time, thought and energy into getting Lee High School off to a good start. He has worked hard with the faculty and students on all administrative problems.

We heartily congratulate him on the wonderful job he has done and wish him much success in his new position, Principal at Falls Church High School.

Although his stay at LEE was brief, he will be long remembered by both the faculty and students.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

One of the main objectives of our Guidance Department is to encourage the individual pupil to make the most of his abilities so that he might develop into a happy contributing member of society.

To accomplish this objective we provide various services. Some of these are:

1. Counseling
2. Initiate and continue the cumulative record
3. Adjust pupils in their classes here at school or in areas of special training
4. Provide college catalogs for student use
5. Collect and distribute scholarship information
6. Supply information concerning finances for college or special education
7. Self-aids for college or special education
8. Provide beneficial group experiences
9. Administer and interpret an adequate testing program
10. Schedule pupils in classes
11. Arrange and conduct conferences with parents and teachers
12. Solicit the aid and recommendations of teachers

Guidance services support and coordinate the other services of the school. We try to meet the needs of boys and girls which cannot be met through the instructional and administrative procedures. You might refer to these services as the hub of a wheel of interpersonal relationships among teachers, administrators, specialists, parents and other adults, and students. All of these relationships effect the life of the student. Some are good; others are harmful. Frequently the person becomes frustrated and needs the sympathetic but guiding help of a counselor.

REMEDIAL READING

In the reading program you work with many who are college material, but need help in mastering their reading skills. They may have lost out on these skills because of frequent moves, illness, or for other reasons.

The Remedial Reading teacher surveys records of students, finding out if they can be helped. She further surveys their problems with standard and informal tests. She then places them in groups where they can work with people who have similar problems.

Remedial reading is a program that can help everyone, because everyone can improve his reading skills.

VISITING TEACHER

THE STUDENT COUNCIL STEERING COMMITTEE

The Student Council Steering Committee was organized in the fall of 1958 to establish the Student Council Association, the student governing body. The purposes of the Student Council Association are to provide a forum for the student expression, to establish a sound program of self-government, and to assist in the management of activities for the benefit of the school and the community.

The officers of the Student Council Steering Committee are as follows: President, Wickie Whalen; Vice-President, Jim Leone; Secretary, Pat Mittendorff; Treasurer, Ronald Freeny; and Reporter, Melody Roberts. These officers have worked industriously this year to achieve the many goals which they set for themselves.

In November the Student Council Steering Committee sponsored a magazine drive to raise money for various school activities. At Christmas time they assisted in collecting food, clothing, and toys for needy families; later in the year they gave generously of their time to aid the March of Dimes program.

One of their most important projects this year has been the writing of the school constitution. Under the able leadership of these capable students, Lee High School is assured of a bright future.

LATIN CLUB

"Consilium est Potestas"
"Ability is Power"

The "Latin Club" is organized to promote a closer relationship with other students who take Latin, in our school and in other schools in this area. We feel that this may be brought about through club meetings and through field trips which are being planned.

The club is composed of students who have taken Latin in previous years and those who are now taking it. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Gregerson.

The Spanish Club was organized during the first semester with approximately forty charter members. A constitution was drawn up and approved which states that the purpose of the organization is to increase the understanding of the costumes and cultures of the Spanish speaking countries, and to foster fellowship and exchange ideas among the students of Spanish.

The official name chosen by the organization is "Los Lanceros Espanoles" (The Spanish Lancers). Membership is open to all students currently enrolled in Spanish classes, as well as to those who have successfully completed one or more years of Spanish previously. The Club meets twice monthly.

The group's first social event was a Christmas Party held in the school cafeteria under the direction of the activities committee. An interesting program was presented using the theme: Christmas in Foreign Lands.

The Club planned visits to the Pan-American Union Building and Embassies of member nations, a meal in a Spanish or Mexican restaurant, and a trip to see a Spanish movie in Washington.

Our French Club had its first meeting about two weeks after school started back in September. Having been the first club to become organized it had many advantages such as sponsoring the first dance. The dance was titled "A Night In Paris" and was a big success. Profits from the dance went into buying materials for the toy drive and $50 went to the General Fund of the School. Of course, these two projects did not use up all of the money. There was still a good bit left for other uses.

FRENCH CLUB

The materials bought for the toy drive were handed out to members of the club and to others who were interested in making toys for the children in Children's Hospital during Christmas. Also during the Christmas the French Club learned Christmas Carols during their meetings.

During the first semester the sponsor of the French Club, Mrs. Sonia Figer, formerly Miss Sonia Schneider, took a few of her students to the Chex Francois, a French restaurant, for dinner.

Another field trip taken by Mrs. Figer and a few of her students was to the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

A listening laboratory was established in the library to hear French spoken with the proper accent for students.

The Lee High Biology Club was formed during the middle of the first semester. Its membership includes about 25 students. The club exists for those students who are looking for more scientific knowledge than they can get in a normal course of study. The club functions as a tool which students can use as a means for finding out more about biological science.

Members participate in such activities as the detailed study of the mammalian heart, study of the brain, and other laboratory dissection and research. The club entered the Northern Virginia Science Fair, they took a field trip to one of the Washington Museums, and go on at least one outdoor excursion for the study of wildlife, plants and fossils.

The Lee High F.H.A. gave a "Turnabout Dance" in the school cafeteria on November 21. Fun was had by all, especially by the chaperones. During the Christmas season, they sponsored the sale of poinsettias as a money making project. A very special Christmas project was the giving of a sympathy Christmas remembrance by the club to a family in this area.

During the last semester the F.H.A. Breakfast Club was established. The purpose was to sell coffee, fruit juice, and doughnuts to teachers and students before school. The last activity of the year was a "Parent-Daughter Banquet" and "Award Night" at which awards were given.
